RUMORS CHECKED A RISI

It Took but Little to Put a Sto to the Bull Movement Yesterday.

An Error and Possible Trouble the Transvaal Were Partly Responsible.

GAS STOCK WAS KNOCKED DOWN

The Time Honored "Strike" Bill in Alban Caused Consolidated to Sell Off-Features of the Market.

Wall Street, Friday, Feb. 14. The unwieldy long interest in stocks suc cumbed easily to the slightest touch of u favorable news to-day. The whispers of possible renewal of complications between England and the Transvaal, combined wit moderate selling by London, was sufficier to check the bull movement and give a appearance of weakness to the market the early trading. Later, the market ra-lied, recovering early losses, and migh have closed firm had it not been disturb by an unfortunate error on the part of news agency. Th is news agency, in or of its early bulletins announced in Washington dispatch that the net gold baance at the commencement of business to day was $63,864,371. The balance reporte this morning was $65,877,462. The erro had its influence, although it was ove looked by many as a typographical error to the control of the control o

THE ERROR REPEATED.

In the afternoon this error was protrude In the afternoon this error was protruded upon the attention of the Street by a local builletin repeating the misleading figures and a deduction therefrom that "the Treasury had lost up to Tuesday about $10,000,000 of gold by withdrawals for redeposit on bond account." There was no such possible way of figuring such enormous withdrawals. The spectators were frightened by this apparent showing. The market quickly broke under the apprehension excited by the error. Its absurdity estroyed the possibility of any disastrous facts, but a sufficient number of traders rere deluded to create an uneasy feeling and give a bearish tone to speculation, he receipts of the Treasury are observed the loss of gold by the operations of ond bidders who disregard public sentiment by withdrawing gold from the Treasury with which to pay for bonds. The absorbers to the loan of course have a gal right to absuse the necessities of the overnment by taking the gold from the reasury for bond payments. Their object so sordid that they attempt to hide bend the name of one or two buillion brows who act as dirty catspaws for men ho are not bold enough to publicly accowledge their particlogation in a biame-orthy transaction. The Treasury is really lining more gold by the new loan than uid have been expected from the large mber of bidders who cannot be held to y responsibility by the ir obscure standr in the business world.
